AT&T MOBILIZATION NEWS

February 25, 2009

AT&T is going all out to reach out to CWA and IBEW members to try to convince you to support THEIR bargaining agenda.

A letter from John T. Stankey, President and Chief Executive Officer, AT&T Operations, Inc. (2008 compensation: $5.6 million) was sent to core employees to introduce the Company's bargaining web site. It's no coincidence that the two articles posted on the site speak to rising health care costs, which is a key piece of the Company's bargaining agenda -- shifting health care costs to us and our retirees.

The site also solicits your questions (to be sent to "m58380"). We're sure our members know that they need to take the company's answers with more than a grain of salt and they will look to the Union for bargaining information. However we should ask AT&T the hard questions.
