CWA D4 AT&T Midwest Bargaining Report #23

April 9, 2009

The healthcare discussion group met all day yesterday and into the evening. While we are still very far apart, we have a better understanding of each other's positions through these discussions.

Our committee has informed the company that we are ready, willing, and able to meet around the clock through this holiday weekend.

MOBILIZATION NEWS: Mobilization will continue around the clock through this weekend as well. Reports from around the District are that mobilization activities are HOPPING!

As we enter day five of Strike Standby, it appears management is on Strike Standby as well. This morning, at some garages, managers showed up dressed to work and are very cranky. Management has to force overtime in many areas since our members are not in the volunteer spirit.

It is time to turn up the heat even more. We must stand behind our bargaining committee and do WHATEVER IT TAKES to win a fair contract.

Contact your Local's mobilization coordinator or officers to find out about your Local's activities.
