TO: All CWA at$t Corp "core" Members/Retirees

SUBJECT: at$t Midwest Management Thumbs Their Noses at Core Employees

I hope everyone had a safe and Happy Easter/Passover Holiday week.

With the exception of the CWA District 4/at$t Midwest bargaining committees, all CWA and at$t Corp. bargaining committees agreed to a recess this past weekend and will resume bargaining today or tomorrow.

at$t Midwest management reluctantly met this past Thursday, Friday and Saturday with our D4 elected bargaining team. However, the at$t Midwest management committee REFUSED TO MEET with our CWA D4 elected bargaining team yesterday, Easter Sunday, April 12, 2009. Your elected D4 team was ready, willing and eager to meet in good faith. The at$t Midwest management committee said NO! and thumbed their noses at our elected committee members.

I suggest the following mobilization activity. ASK Randall Stephenson, at$t CEO, to explain the bad faith actions by his at$t Midwest management bargainers on Easter Sunday. He can be emailed at: rs2982@att.com
