As Proposed, the Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) Would Kill Jobs and Increase State Budget Deficits

We've already lost millions of jobs to NAFTA-style "free trade," and now trade negotiators are meeting in Chicago to hammer out a massive new corporate-friendly free-trade agreement with Pacific Rim countries. Big corporations and financial interests are the big players in these negotiations and plan to use the TPP to take even more money away from struggling families. Working families need a better deal, one that offers protections for labor, environmental, and human rights. Join us to demand a fair deal, one that stops corporations from reaping big bucks by sending good manufacturing and service jobs overseas, depressing wages and benefits in Chicago and around the country, and trimming their already record-low tax rates.

Working families in Chicago and around the country want a fair deal—or no deal!
