

CWA Standing Up For Collective Bargaining Rights!

Across the country, millions of Americans are standing up for collective bargaining rights. Find out how to get involved.

Collective bargaining rights and the right to organize have been under corporate assault for three decades. The frontline in the news today is Wisconsin public workers. Tomorrow's headlines will feature the fights led by CWA in Ohio and New Jersey.

CWA's program to create good jobs is rooted in support for collective bargaining and the right to organize. Our goals are sustainable, union jobs, retirement security, and health care. We've adopted democracy principles to support these goals -- particularly the need to reform our campaign finance laws to prevent corporations and billionaires from buying politicians.

Each of us can bring this movement to our workplaces and our communities. Talk about the importance of collective bargaining with your co-workers, friends and family members. Share information about the fight via e-mail, Facebook, and Twitter and on local and national blogs.

Next Steps

- Join the CWA activist call on Wednesday, February 23 at 7:30 pm. Click here to register.
- Wear red this Friday to support collective bargaining.
- Attend and bring a group of friends to a support rally at a location near you. Click here for a list of rally locations.
- Connect with CWA contacts who are leading the fight in your state. Click here for a list of state contacts.
- Talk about the importance of collective bargaining in your workplace and in your community.
- Learn more about how CWA workers in New Jersey and across the country are fighting back. Click here for the CWA New Jersey website.
- Get the facts about the issues in Wisconsin and in other states. Click here for a good background piece on Wisconsin. Click here for the AFL-CIO's "States of Denial" website.

Communications Workers of America Local 4250
3055 Glenwood-Dyer Road, Lynwood, Illinois 60411
Elizabeth R. VanDerWoude, President (708) 757-4065 (Office)
evp4250@sbcglobal.net (E-Mail)
<http://www.cwalocal4250.org> (Website)