

Nearly 16,000 Goodyear employees are facing the holidays without paychecks. For two and a half months, the United Steelworkers (USW) members have been on strike in a brutal fight for job security and a fair deal on retiree health care. They are sacrificing and fighting for good jobs for all of us—and they need our support.

Tell Goodyear to respect workers and keep its promises. Please take an important step for them and sign the petition now.

Anytime the paycheck stops, it's painful. Right before the holidays, it's even worse. It's cold, and heating bills are out of sight. It's getting harder for these families to pay the mortgage or rent. And to make it all worse, their health benefits expire Jan. 3.

When Goodyear was on the verge of bankruptcy three years ago, USW members and retirees accepted wage, health care and pension cuts and the closing of a plant to save the company. It worked—today Goodyear is highly profitable and able to lavish big bonuses on its executives. But the company wants still more sacrifices from workers.

Goodyear executives can buy their children all the gifts they want—while the striking USW members are struggling just to make it through.

You can help. Please take a moment now to sign the petition telling Goodyear to respect its workers and keep its promises. Your petition will go immediately to Robert Keegan, Goodyear President, CEO, and Chairman.
